a. Referring to claim 1, the prior art of record has not taught or suggested "a multi-bit scoreboard register having a second bit indicative of a speculative state of said one instruction, said scoreboard further configured to control said second bit based on whether an instruction for reading data retrieved by said pending write has been detected during said pending write", in combination with the plurality of pipelines and scoreboard as claimed.

b. Referring to claim 8, the prior art of record has not taught or suggested "updating one of said multi-bit scoreboard registers based on each of said detecting steps such that said one multi-bit register indicates an existence of a pending write associated with said one instruction and a speculative state of said one instruction, said speculative state based on said detecting said pending instruction for reading said data step", in combination with the claimed providing, processing, detecting steps as claimed.

- c. Referring to claim 21, the prior art of record has not taught or suggested "the second bit in the scoreboard indicates whether said pending write may be cancelled", and wherein said system further comprises circuitry configured to cancel said pending write based on said second bit", in combination with the plurality of pipelines and scoreboard as claimed.

  - e. Referring to claim 23, the prior art of record has not taught or suggested "a scoreboard indicative of which of a plurality of registers are associated with pending writes induced by retired instructions, said scoreboard comprising data indicative of which of said retired instructions may be canceled; and circuitry configured to cancel at least one of said retired instructions based on said data", in combination with the plurality of pipelines and scoreboard as claimed.
  - f. Referring to claim 27, the prior art of record has not taught or suggested "updating a scoreboard such that the scoreboard indicates which of a plurality of registers are associated with pending writes induced by retired instructions", in combination with the two claimed updated steps and the claimed processing step.
